First Personal Services Course Graduates Receive Diplomas

A unique course of instruction ended Friday evening at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center with graduation of 10 women students who, for the past 15 weeks, have attended daily classes at the center to learn a variety of subjects under the general classification of "Personal Services."

In addition to graduates of the experimental course, General Educational Development equivalency diplomas (high school) were received by 18 GED graduates and two persons completing Basic Education Skills were awarded eighth grade certificates.

Principal speaker was Dr. George T. Wilkins Jr., local pediatrician. Venice School Supt. John O. Fier welcomed the assembly and the invocation was delivered by Rev. Daniel Williams of the First United Methodist Church of Venice.

Graduates were introduced by Duane Rankin, Venice-Lincoln administrator, and certificates and diplomas were awarded by Elmer Taylor, secretary of the Venice board of education.

First Such Cause
The first such course to be taught in the immediate area, Personal Services graduates were praised as "exceptional students by the course instructor, Miss Darlene Davlan, a registered nurse and former nurse at the U. S. Embassy in Burma."

"They were the most cooperative students and all faithfully attended classes. Even though we got a delayed start in mid-October, instead of the previous month, the students were able to complete the required training within the period of time originally established for the course," Miss Davlan said.

The instructor, who holds a master's degree in guidance from Southern Illinois University and has experience in public health nursing, noted that three of the 10 graduates already have been placed in jobs and six others are enrolled in practical nursing training.

"We believe the success of this first class shows the value of Personal Services training," Miss Davlan said, citing the statistics of those completing the course and the number soon to be employed or start further pre-job training. Twelve enrolled at the course outset last fall.

Students range in age from 18 to 43 years. All were unemployed prior to starting the course and all but two received some form of state aid.

Explaining the experimental program which will be succeeded by a second class of instruction beginning in mid-February, Miss Davlan commented, "We began Personal Services as a course to provide training for persons to work in the home, possibly to assume the home care of an invalid or chronic patient, and care for the home and family in case of the temporary absence of one or both parents."

"For a number of reasons, the course in its offering for the first time took on much more of the nursing aspect and less of the domestic worker. The students completing the instruction are more than adequately trained for nurse aides and could assume that job with confidence."

"All are less than the Licensed Practical Nurse, but those displaying higher competence are to be encouraged and trained in the LPN training," she added.

Special Aspects
Important aspects of the program included the Civil Defense Medical Self-Help course in disaster training, instruction which provided the student with more comprehensive knowledge in first aid and emergency care than the regular or advanced first aid courses, thereby permitting her to respond quickly to an ailing person.

Nursing techniques from which the student learned procedures for taking temperature, pulse, respiration and blood pressure; how to prepare and give a bed bath; draping the patient for examination and techniques in feeding a bed-fast person, were learned.

Other instruction encompassed the proper use of each piece of equipment in the home and sick room and the cleaning, care and storage of the equipment. Classes in health study explored such topics as anatomy, physiology, public health in epidemiology and community health resources, nutrition and special diets and mental diseases.

Different Beginning
"We began the course somewhat differently," Miss Davlan said, commenting that personal grooming of the students themselves introduced class members to Personal Services instruction. Modeling techniques such as how to stand, sit and walk were part of the training, together with telephone usage and manners and table manners, including arrangements, social graces and food, and setting and garnishing a table.

These subjects are all part of learning to care for an invalid or chronically ill person rolled at the course outset last fall.

Hospitals 4th Leading Dollar Spenders in U. S.

Hospitals are the fourth leading industry in dollars expended in the United States, and within a short space of time, only recreation and education will be ahead of the hospital industry in dollar-wise expenditures, Ted Ellerman, St. Elizabeth Hospital assistant administrator, told Granite City Optimists Thursday afternoon.

Speaking at the club's luncheon meeting in the Rose Bowl restaurant, Ellerman said that in 1960 expenditures by hospitals in rendering services will exceed $62 billion.

At the present time, there are 5000 general hospitals in the U. S., which combine vastly diverse skills on their teams of health specialists, he noted. Hospitals today are required to be a combination of hotels, restaurants, laundries and power plants to provide the necessary service.

Ellerman pointed out that the U. S. government is the biggest consumer in the field of health care, primarily through the Medicare program. He mentioned the increasing amount of paperwork needed to comply with regulations pertaining to Medicare.

$55-Million Budget
St. Elizabeth Hospital's 1960 budget will reach $55 million, with $3½ million expended in salaries, he stated. He compared this year's figure with the total budget in 1959 when the sum of $385,000 was budgeted to operate the facility.

Two principal factors have been responsible for increased costs in hospital care, Ellerman said—establishment of the minimum wage law for hospital employees and competition by medical facilities in hiring and retaining the best people available. Especially in short supply are nurses, laboratory and x-ray technicians, he explained, adding that hospitals generally employ 2½ employees per patient.

Future prospects in the health care field include incentive programs for employees and involving patients in planning hospital services. Ellerman said that stabilization of costs will occupy the attention of administrators and projected changes will result in a different pattern in the patient-donor relation ship.

Health care will be brought to the people and additional comprehensive medical programs will be offered, he speculated.

Ellerman praised the support given the hospital by the community which provided $1.3 million to further expansion and improvements at the local hospital and noted that creation of and subsequent activity by a lay advisory board have been most helpful to the St. Elizabeth administration.

The speaker was introduced by E. E. Veith, program chairman. Thirty-eight attended, including a guest, David Giese of the American National Bank staff.

MOVING AN INJURED PERSON via wheelchair was among the techniques of patient care taught in the Personal Services course at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center. Alberta Taylor of Venice acts as the patient for Mary Gibson of Madison, pushing the wheelchair. The women were among 10 graduating from the program Friday evening.

Madison county and parts of St. Clair county were preceded by evening classes in adult basic education preparation for the GED examination, and Home Maintenance and Repair courses.

A total of 12 full-time teachers and a vocational counselor form the center's staff and the overall program now encompasses a comprehensive Child Care facility, a Family Living series, typing, shorthand, accounting, business mathematics and general subjects.

Rankin noted that chartered bus service and a hot lunch cafeteria have provided vital supporting services which contribute to a new and hopefully successful educational experience for the students attending the center.

Child Care Program
Arrangements also have been made through the school nurse to get children enrolled in the Child Care program to the "Well Baby" clinic for common inoculations and periodic health checks.

The clinic is operated by the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, with cooperation of volunteers from the Tri-City Medical Society and St. Elizabeth Hospital, every two weeks at the Neighborhood Service Center, 145 Madison avenue, Madison.

"We are also offering two night classes, which will carry high school credits, shorthand and typing," Rankin explained, adding it is hoped that incorporation of the Department of Labor into the operation through the WIN (Work Incentive Program) will provide the students with close coordination with jobs and the labor market.

In the proposal stage are several vocational courses, including Data Processing, Graphic Communications, Welding, Auto Body, Auto Mechanics, Machine Shop, Drafting and Blueprint reading. Several of the courses will be included in the center's curriculum this summer and fall.

Rankin said that through the new programs it is hoped the student may continue training in the same facility where he has previously become successful in learning and mastering the basic skills.

"We feel that our center is unique in its location in the St. Louis Metropolitan area from a standpoint of varied job proximity, a large urban population, central geographic location, the quality of our physical plant and the social climate," he administrator said.

At the present time, enrollment in day classes numbers 120 adults, with 39 children attending the Child Care program.

Partney Stresses Benefits Reaped From U. S. Funds

Nearly $10 millions in federal funds for city improvements have been received by Granite City while he has served as mayor during the past four years, Mayor Donald Partney pointed out today in a statement in which he notes that he also has been Granite City's "first full-time mayor."

Mayor Partney, who is seeking re-nomination and re-election in the Feb. 11 Granite City mayoralty primary, said:

"I became the first full time Mayor that our city ever had in 1965. In many fields of endeavor we were able to bring about improvements with the great help of the citizen commissions and committees. I am extremely grateful to the many citizens who serve on these committees or commissions, and for the time donated by them for the betterment of our community."

"In spite of our numerous accomplishments and the many long hours spent in fulfilling promises made prior to election, there is usually an honest seeker, or two, who seek to discredit all things done; and, then tell all the wonderful things they would do, if they were mayor. This year we have two such candidates.

"Most everything these men propose is either presently under way, or already finished. Let's take a hard, cold, truthful look. See and judge for yourself."

"Candidate Schellenger says we have not been able to attract new industry. The very last issue of the Granite City Press-Record, dated Jan. 30, 1969, had front page news about new office and laboratory buildings for Miles Laboratories; a new $500,000 warehouse at Tri-City Port; and a new $800,000 warehouse at the Granite City wharf. This is only a small example on one page of one issue of the Press-Record; yet, Mr. Schellenger says we have not been able to attract new industry."

Already in Progress

"Both Boyd and Schellenger propose to start working for an overpass to West Granite. I can show you an entire folder full of letters on this subject between state and federal agencies and my office. I refer them to one of many press releases on this subject dated Aug. 31, 1967, in the local press. This proposal has been in progress for over one and a half years."

"Candidate Boyd stressed air pollution control as a principal objective. I am proud to inform our citizens that as an alderman nearly 20 years ago, I brought in the very first Smoke Abatement ordinance in Granite City. According to a pollution study of the Illinois Metropolitan area, we have a 48% decrease in particulate emissions under this administration, due primarily to new processes at some Granite City plants. The point is, that this cannot be something new to be brought up by either opponent, as they try to make it appear. It has been for a long time already."

"I simply wanted to inform the public of the shallow substantive reasoning used by these two men. Take a look at what they promise, then take a look around. You will find that what they promise to do is either already in progress or already completed."

"It is apparent to me, though, that since neither of my opponents are businessmen, they don't quite realize the difference in cost and time, between promising and delivering. It's a long, costly road in between. The talk is cheap, but the job comes high; however, not being businessmen, I really don't expect them to understand this."

"What all we do have to look back on during my term? First of all, we can see much opposition to progress caused by the very people who now propose harmony in the Council, yet great progress has been made in many different areas:

Lists Accomplishments

"1. Nearly ten million dollars of federal and state funds were brought into the area for improvements. This provided a tremendous amount of work for our people."

"2. A new aerial fire truck without any cost to our taxpayers."

"3. A new sewage treatment plant with the lowest sewage rate in the state of Illinois."

"4. Paving and widening of Nameoki road, Maryville road, McCambridge road, Johnson road, Route 151 from Niedringhaus avenue north to city limits, etc. including many sidewalk improvements."

"5. One hundred new low rent housing units."

"6. Modernization of the cemetery by Kirkpatrick Homes. This has been a terrible blight on the entire area for many, many years. Children had to dig into many of the graves."

"7. Sanitary sewers now service the entire Granite City area. This has been a terrible blight on the entire area for many, many years. Children had to dig into many of the graves."

"8. Storm water sewers to stop flooding of our streets."

"9. Annexation of 253 acres to our city."

"10. Annexation of Rellay Tax and Chemical Corp. Attempts had been made to do this for many years. Now it is done and provides us with an additional tax revenue."

"As stated earlier, I have been fortunate enough to bring nearly ten million dollars of federal, state and county money to Granite City for city improvements. The actual return to the city was nine million, nine hundred, eighty-six thousand, nine hundred and fifty-two dollars."

Interest on Deposits

"In spite of all the improvements made, we were able to place enough of our city money on interest in banks to earn our community $168,785."

"This is your money, and I have tried to spend each dollar as wisely as I do my very own. I believe the above report speaks for itself. Yet, there are other reports of a different nature to which I invite your attention."

"In a recent study published by the Business Research Bureau of Southern Illinois University, they said on page 72 (concerning Granite City), 'the new mayor is doing a good job.' This makes me quite proud."

"I, also, take pride in the attitude of our businessmen in Granite City who do not care enough money to hire a supervisor of 61 youths, who were put to work for the purpose of beautifying our city. These youths 'for construction rather than destruction' were paid by the federal government at $1.25 per hour."

"I am grateful, also, to a great number of unions and individual labor members who

GC Warriors Topple Belleville Marroons - 80-61

Still hoping for an outside chance at first place in the Southwestern Conference, the Granite City high school Warriors basketball team galloped over Belleville West 80-61 Friday evening in Memorial gym.

But, the Edwardsville Tigers continued on the winning trail Friday by defeating Alton 78-57, for a 7-0 record.

The only mathematical chance for the Warriors to share the wardville next Saturday—and top spot is with a victory at Ed-then help from another club in downing the roaring Tigers.

After Friday's game, Coach Don Detering commented, "This was one of our finest games. We have had trouble playing four good quarters and we've always had at least one bad period every game, but this time we did it."

The Warriors kept hammering away at an even pace, scoring 20 points in the first quarter, another 20 the second quarter, dropping to 19 in the third, but then coming back with 21 the final quarter.

The Maroons scored 17 the opening period, 16, 11 and then ending with 17.

Our success came from the good support by all our players. We were playing our defense and offense just the way we practiced. And our plays clicked.

"Belleville used a man-to-man defense. This is what we like to see the other teams do against Gary Simpson. There hasn't been a team yet that can control him that well. If they switch to double teaming him, then someone else is open and he feeds the ball."

"Gary is not a selfish ball player. If he is covered, he doesn't take unnecessary chances if it would hurt the team. He dribbles, passes and shoots well in tight spots."

Simpson paced the Warriors with 29 points, hitting 12 of 23 from the field for 52% and a perfect five for five at the charity stripe.

"However, Simpson isn't the only one that was a scoring threat to GCHS opponents," Coach Detering remarked. "Dave Selzer is the type of player that is oftentimes unnoticed but manages to go out and get the job done."

"Take for example this game. He scored 22 points, getting 11 that last quarter and coming down with 15 of our 38 rebounds. What makes it more creditable to the boy is that he is only 6'1", and he is under the basket with taller boys."

Dave shot eight of 12 field goals for 67% and sank six of eight free throws for 75%.

"Metter gets a lot of his baskets on the offensive board. This makes him a valuable man for inside positioning under the basket," Detering added.

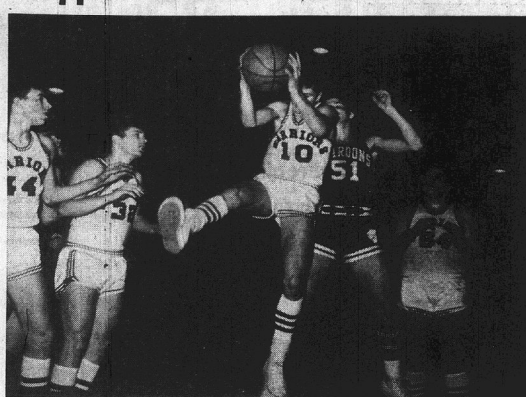

The Maroons outscored the Warriors earlier this season, but the Warriors held the edge Friday 38-19. Rich Hutchings, although he did not score, "did a good job of rebounding until he got into foul trouble forcing us to take him out."

"Jeff Boyles replaced Hutchings and played his finest game of the season. He drove at the basket instead of backing away and managed to sink 10 points as well as getting some key rebounds."

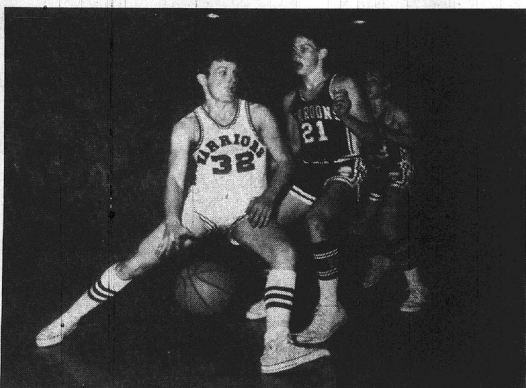

As a team, the Warriors hit 32 of 57 field goals attempts for 56% and 16 of 23 free throw tries for 69%. The Maroons hit 35% from the field and 21 of 25 free throws.

The Warriors played a 2-3 zone defense.

Rounding out the scoring were John VanBuskirk with 11 and Steve Harris with eight. Top scorer for the Maroons was Mark Kroenig with 28.

NAILING A REBOUND is Warrior Steve Harris (10) in action at Memorial Gym Friday evening, when the Warriors won over Belleville 80-61. Ready to assist Harris are Jeff Boyles (44), Gary Simpson (32) and John VanBuskirk (54). Maroon Bill Kroenig (61) stands alone.

PROTECTING HIS POSSESSION, Warrior Gary Simpson (32) skirts around two opponents, Maroons Randy Chinn (21) and Mike Stone (23), who were unable to stop him. Simpson hit for 29 points in the Warrior victory.

GC Wrestlers Down Hazelwood

Now all five teams that won over the Granite City high school Warriors wrestling team on one to four points. They get an early lead, like they did on us 12-4, and then can't hold on. However, they do have some fine wrestlers."

The latest conquest came Friday evening on the road when the Warriors downed Hazelwood 21-15.

The Warriors only have one remaining dual meet this season, and that will be against the Maroons on Wednesday on the Maroons mats starting at 7 p.m.

Commenting on Friday's match, Coach Bill Schmidt said, "The Hazelwood wrestlers have had troubles in heavier weights the last few matches. They have lost the last four ranging from one to four points. They get an early lead, like they did on us 12-4, and then can't hold on. However, they do have some fine wrestlers."

Results were Bruce Miller (95) L 10-3; Bob Miller (103) W 14-0; Al Bridgeman (112) L 7-2; Steve Ferguson (120) L 7-2; Mike Christopher (127) W 5-2; Fay Burcham (135) L 5-4; Tom Niebur (138) W 6-1; Alex Tarp-off (145) W 5-4; Rick Smith (154) W 8-7; Tim Wallace (165) W 6-4; Bob Patis (180) W 4-0; Mark Mizeraki (heavy-weight) L 5-0.

2 Perfect Games in 3 Months by GC Bowler

It is quite an accomplishment for any bowler to shoot a 300 game, even once in a lifetime, but few people dream of shooting two such games in less than three months' time.

Bob Ray, a 188 average bowler, did just that Thursday in open play at Bowland. He shot the perfect 12-strike game on lanes 19 and 20 next to the spot of lanes where he bowled a perfect game in November.

He is employed by the Granite City post office.

The game was witnessed by Max Legate, a Bowland player, as well as five other bowlers practicing with Ray. They were Walt Kafka, Charles Landys, Bruce David, Chas Summers and Len Civar. Scorekeeper for the game was Rip Johnson.

He will receive a check for $150 from Bowland for his accomplishment after this week. He bowls in the Spotlight and Classic leagues.

Dr. Wilkins was praised for the time he spends keeping Warrior teams in good physical shape.

Guaranteed Trees!
When you buy a tree or shrub, does it have a guarantee? Local nurserymen will give you a loud yes! But they do have some reservations!

They are confident their plants will grow but will only guarantee 50% of the cost if the plant dies. Most guarantees expire by July when the season does not end until November. Here are some of the details.

Guarantees are a pledge of confidence in their product when given reasonable care. Nurserymen's guarantees have heavy emphasis on "the Reasonable Care" portion and try to create a partnership with the new owner. Very few plants can survive transplanting unless they are properly planted, pruned and occasionally watered. When the 50-50 deal is in effect, each partner has something at stake. The nurseryman will lose if he doesn't properly dig and care for his plant before he sells. The buyer will lose when he does not apply T.L.C. (tender loving care) after it is planted.

Once the plant has begun to grow the nurseryman feels he has made good on his end of the bargain. Guarantees usually expire in July when the nurseryman is assured his plant has begun to grow and will be successful if it gets proper care. Full season guarantees become a guarantee on the new owner to water and properly care for the plant rather than confidence in the plant.

Overgrown Trees
When you shade and landscape trees are overgrown giants, it isn't easy to create an attractive landscape scene. A grand piano in the bedroom creates the same sort of problems of size and proportion.

One course of action is to change the size of your tree. When you see neighborhood trees pruned down to "size" try to compare their problem with adapting a grand piano to a bedroom-sized room. Many times the adjustment ruins both the trees and the piano.

Some trees can be pruned down to size, but the job depends on the skill of the tree specialist as well as the tree. Some trees are too large and mature to recover from severe pruning. Others aren't worth the cost because of annual attacks of blight, beetles or bleeding.

When trees are valuable because of qualities of shade, beauty and vigor, many can be pruned to better serve your needs. Tree shapes and size can be changed by several cuts at crotches to change the emphasis of growth. A flattened shape can change the whole effect

Angling cuts of limbs less than four inches always heal better than larger limb cuts. Faster healing and better recovery occur when hand saws ship can spoil the landscape are used. These saws avoid the value of your tree. A few big tearing and rugged edges create cuts rather than several small cuts may be economical, but when your instructions aren't well understood, poor workman- Gradual rotting, poor growth,

Three Windows Broken
Vandals broke three skylight windows out of the B. & E. Planing Mill, 1228 State street, Madison, police reported at 1 p.m. yesterday. Officers said the windows, each 24 by 24 inches, apparently were broken with pieces of slag thrown from the alley.

Faces 3 Charges

Charges of drunkenness, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest were placed against Larry Williams, 21, of 163 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, who was taken into custody about 8:40 p.m. Friday by Venice police in the 100 block of Slough road. Police said Williams was arguing with another man when they appeared on the scene.

and fallen limbs will be the result.

If you are planning to modify the landscaping of your home, carefully consider the value of each tree. If you decide to remodel your trees, compare that project with the same problem of remodeling the grand piano to better fit the size of a bedroom. Workmanship and skill are just as important as price for both projects. Before you sign the final agreement with your tree expert, be sure both of you understand the job to be done.

MRS. BILLY R. YARBROUGH, the former Lana Sue Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Watson, 2453 Logan street, who was married at Second Baptist Church.

Miss Lana Sue Watson and Billy Yarbrough are Wed

Arrangements of white gladioli, pom poms and greenery, together with lighted candles in branched candelabra at the altar and candles in the aisle, provided the setting for the wedding Friday evening at Second Baptist Church of Miss Lana Sue Watson and Billy R. Yarbrough.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Watson, 2453 Logan street, and Mrs. Ruth Yarbrough, 2836 Edgewood drive.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by the Rev. B. E. Dutton, church pastor, and a reception was held afterward in the Fellowship Hall. Miss Annette Yarbrough, a sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Norman Grote presided at the organ and accompanied the vocalist, Miss Letta Marmon, as she sang "More," "One Hand, One Heart" and "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory Alencon lace over satin fashioned with a scoop neck and long tapered sleeves. Satin roses accented the Empire bodice of the long A-line gown and a detachable train of satin fell from the back neckline with rose trim. More of the roses trimmed the bottom of the train and a tiered shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was secured to a petalled crown of illusion and Chantilly lace, intermingled with seed pearls.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with a corsage of pink Sweetheart roses and white satin ribbon.

Miss Debra Rill, maid of honor, and Miss Deborah Lianance, bridesmaid, were dressed alike in deep Burgundy velvet gowns with scoop necklines and elbow sleeves. Burgundy satin roses accented the back panels which fell to the hemlines of the long A-line skirts. Head-

Long A&S Freight Causes Workers, Pupils to be Late

School children and workers living in the Bend road area were late arriving at schools and on their jobs Friday morning when they were delayed by a long Alton & Southern Railroad train, it was reported by William Nichols.

"We've been having this problem for several months, but Friday's delay of 25 minutes was the longest. It seems the trains are getting longer and longer, and there's only the one road out of the area," he explained.

Nichols said the delay was between 7:30 and 8 a.m. "This happens several times a week. We've complained to the railroad and to the Illinois Commerce Commission, and now we hope the public will help us in filing more complaints."

SIU-SW Dental School To be at Alton Center

John S. Rendleman, SIU-SW chancellor, announced last week that SIU plans to establish a dental school with a freshman class of 40 to 60 students at the Alton center of SIU-SW. Plans are to eventually house the school for an enrollment of 400 students at the SW campus, but to provide a quick start space in the science building at the Alton center is to be modeled.

He added that the quick start is needed because of the impending shutdown of the St. Louis University dental school.

Euthanasia Chamber for Animal Shelter Bought

An euthanasia chamber has been purchased by the Granite City animal shelter board to be used to destroy diseased and unwanted animals held at the shelter.

The purchase, at a total cost of $2300, was made possible by money placed in the animal shelter fund by the Granite City council, generous gifts from friends of the shelter and donations made to the Nellie Stevens memorial fund.

Miss Stevens served as secretary for the board for many years. Also used were proceeds from the sale of "Be Kind to Animals" calendars sold by board members. The city paid $500 of the cost.

The chamber was purchased from the Euthanasia Co. of Whittier, Calif.

In using the equipment, animals to be put to sleep are placed in a heavy steel chamber from which air is removed by an automatic pump, simulating an airless altitude of about 60,000 feet.

Unconsciousness occurs between seven and 60 seconds, and the animal is completely prone in three minutes. There is no strangulation, suffocation or pain present before the animal blacks out.

There are no toxic gases, and any employee can operate the chamber without a specialized training course. Delivery of the shelter is expected in March.

Social Security Director Supplies the Answers

Answers to questions posed by persons interested in Medicare and Social Security are being answered by Ralph Brasher, district manager of the Social Security Administration office in East St. Louis.

Following are the questions recently received and the answers:

Q. I have been ill and have a lot of doctor's bills. I have not had the money to pay the doctor. I am signed up for Medicare medical insurance. Can I collect from Medicare without first paying the doctor?

A. Yes, you can. This is a recent change in Medicare. You may either have the doctor accept assignment of the bills, that is he will collect from Medicare, or you may send your itemized bills along with a form SSA-490 to the Medicare carrier and get the payment yourself. If you have any doubts or if you need help go to your social security office.

Q. My mother died in 1965. At that time my father received the Lump Sum Death Payment, but my two brothers age 9 and 10 could not receive benefits because my mother had not worked recently before her death. Is there any chance that my father can receive benefits for my brothers now?

A. Yes, the 1967 amendments to the social security act made it easier for children of deceased women to draw benefits. Since your mother had enough work for your father to receive the Lump Sum Death Payment it is almost certain that your brothers can receive benefits. Your father should inquire immediately at the social security office.

Q. Are railroad workers covered by social security?

A. While working, their wages are covered by the Railroad Retirement Act, however, if death or disability occurs and the worker is not eligible for Railroad Retirement benefits, his railroad earnings can be transferred to his social security account.

"If you have any questions concerning your social security put your questions on a card or letter and mail to 'Social Security Questions and Answers,'" Brasher said.

School Principal Role in Student Teaching Outlined

The role of the school principal in student teaching was discussed at a recent meeting held at the Southern Illinois University-Southwest campus.

Leslie J. Wehling, coordinator of student teachers at SIU-SW, was the official host. He presented to the administrators the University's ideas on the values and needs of a student teaching program in the whole teacher training process.

Throughout the afternoon session he stressed the importance of involvement by principals in the program. Several services principals can perform include: commitment to the student teacher program; recruitment of cooperating teachers, orientation and consultation with student teachers, and providing feedback to the University on the effectiveness of its teacher training program.

At the end of the session, the group discussed several problems as viewed by the administrators and Wehling.

Parallel problems of lack of time on the part of the classroom teacher and lack of adequate financing in setting up special programs were recognized.

Ideally the student teacher would benefit from as much time and consultation with the cooperating teacher as possible; while from the public school administrator's point of view, the teacher's first responsibility is to the particular school and unit where he is employed.

Specific techniques necessary for administering a good teacher education program, such as individualized programs for the student teacher, orientation, and

Monthly Premium

Voluntary, Supplemental Medicare Fee Still is $4

The monthly premium older people pay for the voluntary Medicare supplement program will remain at the present $4 for the period July 1, 1969 through June 30, 1970, Ralph Brasher, social security district manager, said today.

The premium covers half the cost of protection that helps pay doctor's and surgeons' bills and a variety of other health care expenses. The other half is paid out of federal general revenues.

Of the population 65 and over, 95% are now enrolled in the supplementary medical insurance program, Brasher said, up from the 90% enrolled when the Medicare program began on July 1, 1966.

A new enrollment period opened Jan. 1, Brasher said, and will provide another chance for people who missed out earlier to sign up for the protection. For some—those who were born Oct. 1, 1901, or earlier and those who were enrolled but dropped out before Jan. 1, 1967—it will be the last chance to enroll.

A variety of experiences in the classroom, were discussed. Wehling pointed out that as SIU reviews and revises its teacher training program there will be more emphasis on tying the student's theory courses to practical experiences.

"This will probably mean we'll be coming to you asking for an opportunity for more field experience for our students," Wehling said.

He pointed out to the administrators that cooperation has been at a high level. Annually there are nearly 500 SIU students who are in Texas for the National Young Artist Competition.

Students who do student teaching. The University's expense in operating the student teaching program is about $350 per student, including administrative costs and pay of stipend to the cooperative leader, and the free quarter tuition for administrators.

County's November Public Aid Cost Down $439,000

Public aid allotments in Madison county during last November totaled $899,567, a drop of $439,000 below the all-time record of $1,338,567 authorized in the county during October, according to a report released by Harold O. Swank, director of the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

The November payments of $899,567 were distributed among 9630 recipients in Madison county, while the larger October payments went to 8664 recipients. Swank's report pointed out that higher October payments resulted from statewide payments of more than $8 million in per diem rates of aged mental patients that were retroactive to September 1968.

November allotments in Madison county for old age assistance amounted to $311,994 for 1233 clients, compared to October payments of $551,368 to 1381 recipients.

ADC Cost Up
Aid to Dependent Children allotments increased during November, although the number of clients receiving ADC funds decreased slightly. A total of 5907 cases received $325,701 in ADC payments in November, compared to payments of $315,420 to 5980 clients in October.

Allotments for general assistance amounted to $24,331 in November for a substantially increased 1728 clients. In October, payments totaled $28,571 and were paid to 1350 recipients.

Disability pension payments in November also dropped below the October payments while the number of recipients remained almost stable.

Swank's report showed Madison county payments of $116,483 in disability to 935 persons in November, compared to $120,798 to 933 persons in October.

Blind assistance, lesser of the five categories of public aid, cost $1308 for 39 Madison county residents in November, compared to $3822 paid in October to 40 recipients.

At the state level, Swank's report said, an increase of 1761 brought the number of persons on the rolls to 505,333 in November, compared to 503,574 in October. The November aid load was 45,680 above the total of 459,658 persons receiving aid in November 1967.

Statewide expenditures for November were $40,946,109, compared to $46,305,082 for October and $33,551,046 for November 1967. November expenditures included $1,885,161 to the Department of Mental Health for persons 65 or over eligible for public aid and living in state hospitals. Also included was $445,326 in payment for foster care, aid to the medically indigent and burials.

BOYD HELPED DEFEAT SOUND TRAFFIC PLAN

To the Editor:

Early in Mayor Partney's term he appointed a Citizens Traffic Committee.

Mayor Partney and the committee interviewed a traffic engineer and he was recommended to the city council by the mayor and traffic committee to be employed by Granite City for the next year at a $4000 fee.

The council approved the engineer and fee.

The Granite City traffic mess has roots deep in politics and an injunction suit against Mayor Partney. Thousands of dollars of taxpayers' money went down the drain through hard efforts of Mayoral Candidate Boyd.

How many citizens are aware of the real mess in the Granite City council?

How many remember that an engineered one-way street plan to really move traffic in Granite City was foisted in this third reading through a switched vote by Alderman Partney against the plan?

How many people remember that Mayoral Candidate Boyd and Alderman Poulos conducted a so-called private survey which they later used to scuttle the one-way street program as proposed by the engineer?

The present one-way street program is in backwards to the engineer's proposed plan.

How many people remember that Mayoral Candidate Boyd filed a lawsuit against the mayor to prevent the engineer's plan from being put into effect?

This was a plan designed by an expert to expedite the flow of traffic, prevent accidents and insure safety in our city.

It is ironic that the lawyer employed by the mayor to prevent the engineer's plan from being put into effect at a very handsome fee.

How many people in Granite City know that in spite of an increase of only 3% in the number of cars registered, traffic accidents have increased by 11.6% over the previous year?

Some of this might have been prevented by professional traffic engineering, instead of traffic control by politics.

Who would believe that when Alderman Bartosiek presented the one-way street program, which is backwards to the engineer's plan, it was done so by his statement to get Alderman Boyd off the lawsuit hook so that Alderman Boyd could run for office?

Just think—the same competent traffic engineer who had worked 14 years in traffic engineering for the state of Illinois and had also drawn the traffic plans for Granite City, then had them scuttled for a plan by our own aldermen.

Financially speaking, the engineer agreed to do and did all the studies, surveys and plans for only $4000. This was sent "down the drain."

Now, if only our life could be saved by an intelligent traffic plan it would be worth, well, . . . what would you take for one of your loved ones?

Are Alderman Boyd and his helpers really that much smarter than a traffic engineer?

No wonder that Mayor Partney has had to be firm with this bunch. May he be mayor as long as we can keep him firmness and all.

TREE OF LIGHTS SUPPORT

To the Editor:

Be it known that we, the members of the local Salvation Army Advisory Board, are deeply grateful to this community and to the Press-Record for the support that both have given our organization this past year and during our recent Tree of Lights campaign.

We sincerely thank you, EDWARD L. STONE, Advisory Board Chairman

ELECT BOYD, END 'BIG BUSINESS' TAKEOVER

To the Editor:

Here in Granite City for the last four years the office of mayor has been taken over by a group of people who represent "big business" in our city. They hold the whip that keeps Mayor Partney in line.

This leaves him mayor by name only. The sad thing is that the mayor does not know what's been done to him.

This same group has full control of our police and fire commissioners and also the zoning board of our city.

Mayor Partney has tied his own hands. That prevents him from carrying out his duties as mayor. He is a politician and doesn't know how to get out.

He has tried many things and failed, and even tried to weaken the standing of one of our aldermen by calling him a name that is unpleasant and mighty hard for any alderman to endure.

Action of this kind against an alderman shows to me a lack of confidence in the city council.

We must stop this kind of action by electing a new mayor in our city who will restore harmony in the city council so aldermen can serve with great pride and without taking abuse from any mayor.

It's easy for one to see that Granite City needs a change in the office of mayor. Yes, we need a man who is well experienced and qualified to become the next mayor of Granite City.

Clayde Boyd has the experience and the know-how to deal with business and with labor also in city affairs.

Boyd has all the qualifications that should make him the kind of Mayor Granite City has been needing for a long time.

FINE RAFFLE WITH CHILDREN AT THEATRE

To the Editor:

I have read with great interest the article in the Press-Record about the Granite City area with Chris Passhoff to be the new manager. I feel that this is the only person who has the theater could possibly have been given.

I remember very well Mr. Passhoff directing the screaming herd of kids every Friday night and all weekend long at the Washington Theater when I was a youngster during the fifties. Some of the staff remained alone from most of the confusion when Mr. Passhoff seemed to delight in it.

He never unfairly reprimanded or expelled any child from the theater and was always ready with extra money when anyone (myself in particular) was out of money.

The money was and was strangled at the show.

He never got excited but he maintained control with just the right amount of authority.

And what's more, he doesn't look any older than he did 15 years ago. That's a real feat when you work with wild kids every day and nights, too.

So, I think Mr. Passhoff has earned the right to reign over an elegant, quiet theater. I look forward to meeting him again on opening night at the new one.

Booby Trap Included in Legislation On Consolidating Small Townships

It is "very interesting" that the Township Officials Association of Illinois is one of the main backers of a bill to require consolidations resulting in bigger townships and a reduction in the present total of 1,500.

As the association says, "Something will have to be done if we are going to keep local government." It evidently defines local government as townships; we are not aware of any threat to the future of cities and villages, which have municipal powers, or to the continuation of school systems, park districts and other taxing bodies.

The association views the consolidation plan, which would reduce the number of township supervisors and assistant supervisors, as preferable to abandonment of townships altogether. The latter prospect has arisen in discussions of how county boards can be elected in accord with the "one man, one vote" principle, particularly now that Attorney General Scott has ruled against the present procedure for county boards, and election of a county administrative officer has been proposed in the General Assembly.

The association has a good idea but apparently was unable to resist the temptation to include "a booby trap" in its merger proposal.

The Township Officials Association not surprisingly is dedicated to the preservation of town government, particularly in unincorporated areas, where townships strive to be the local-level dispenser of services despite the built-in handicap that they are not municipalities.

They are not only handicapped, and consequently somewhat ineffective, but also become a direct obstacle to efficient government by championing the highly doubtful virtues of unincorporated status. They do so in fringe areas of co-extensive cities like Granite City, because city annexations bite chunks out of the adjacent township's domain.

Viewed from afar, without taking into account specific individuals or issues, this guerrilla warfare is a disservice to the public because the state created municipalities to provide municipal services, including services to newly-built areas.

The disservice would be expanded by the proposed legislation, through creating more islands and more territorial disputes, including such municipalities as Decatur and Rockford.

All cities of 25,000 population or more would be townships. Parcells of the townships in which the cities are now located, and which would be outside the corporate limits, would be added to contiguous rural townships.

Consolidation of all townships with less than 36 million assessment probably would be a sound step, as many as three towns could be put into one. But if enacted, the law should include any booby traps like the one described.

While they are at it, legislators ought to eliminate the territorial battlegrounds—costly in tax dollars and service limitations—already in existence.

Will Senate Leader Post Once Again Be a Springboard to the Presidency?

Those who say Senator Edward Kennedy's elevation to assistant majority leader made him a "dead end street" have overlooked an important point.

Their reasoning is that the assistant position, popularly known as "whip," is of only slight newsmaking value and ties an individual to Washington while other senators are roaming the nation making speeches and obtaining political "IOUs" through their help in various campaigns.

But Majority Leader Mike Mansfield is hitting more openly as time goes by that he will retire when his term ends in 1970, reportedly to back television broadcaster Chas. Huntley, a Montana property owner, for the Democratic nomination to succeed him in the U. S. Senate. In any case, he is about three decades older than his assistant.

Mansfield, believed to favor the 36-year-old senior Massachusetts senator for the presidency, is well aware that the assistant leader is usually given top consideration for the interior majority leader post when a vacancy develops. It was from the Senate leadership that both Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey vaulted to the vice-presidency and subsequently to presidential nominations.

There are other routes to the presidency, not the least of which is the combination of personal charm and national image which Sen. Kennedy already possesses. But his present course of earning his way up through the ranks could give EMK an easier path than either JFK or RFK, both pictured by their opponents as opportunists to jump on the bandwagon.

By 1972, at the ripe age of 39, going on 40, the youngest of the Kennedys (called the best politician in the family by the late President John F. Kennedy), may have "his turn" and become the logical candidate of his party—quite an accomplishment at any age.

Forum Gives Voters Chance to Learn Much About Mayor Candidates; Attend on Feb. 5

Because voting is wise when the public has wide knowledge of competing candidates, the Granite City mayor candidate forum at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 5, at the high school cafeteria is a "must" for voters. It offers a chance to view the aspirants at close range, learn more about them and hear their proposals on municipal issues.

With only mayor ballots to be cast in the Feb. 11 primary, it may be somewhat easier than usual for citizens to concentrate on this important office; other ballot decisions remain to be made, but not until April.

There are fewer candidates than in previous mayor contests, and the time available—combined with the candidates' willingness—has enabled a question period to be scheduled this week along with opening talks.

The potential for increased public awareness and understanding is great, and Granite Cityans ought to take full advantage of the opportunity by attending the forum meeting.

Board Members Retiring After Long Service to Local YMCA

Departing YMCA board members include Arthur D. Roseman, a director since 1927, Edwin G. Schmitt, since 1941, and M. G. Reinhardt, since 1957.

Their counsel will be missed, but an alternating procedure will bring a constant supply of new leadership to the board. And those retiring will be able to continue their committee service during the year before they again will be eligible for election to the board.

One way to be popular is to listen to a lot of things you already know.

Growth of Economy Helps State Revenue—But Spending Rises Faster

(State Chamber of Commerce Tax Department)

The various state taxes—the amount of federal funds funneled into the state, which will make a significant difference in budget planning.

New federal welfare regulations have a great many incentive provisions for programs similar to ones Illinois already has under way, so the state cannot qualify for them and thus loses this extra income.

If Illinois breaks even on the net revenues received into the General Fund, it will be very fortunate.

For the 1967-71 biennium, the state might expect $9.5 million more in sales tax with something less than $8.2 million from other taxes.

If we are fortunate enough to break even in the non-tax areas, Illinois could expect $171,200,000 from increased revenues due to growth in the state.

Or, to put it more bluntly, the state might expect enough growth in revenues in the next biennium to come close to affording its present spending levels—but with no increase in any program.

Apartments Near Downtown Vital to Future of City

(Excerpts from the newly-adopted Granite City Long-Range Development Plan)

Planning District Two has boundaries east of Illinois Highway Three and along Ponton road, Namekook road, East 23rd street and the Central Business District.

The predominant land use in District Two is proposed for single-family residential, with some medium-density residential development.

Medium-density apartments should be located in close proximity to major or collector streets, such as Namekook road, Ponton road and East 23rd street, in order to accommodate the traffic generated by developments of this nature.

High-density residential apartments are proposed around the northern boundary of the Central Business District.

The area was chosen for high-density multiple developments because it is now in the transition from single-family or commercial use. The area is also in close proximity to Wilson Park. In addition, the area could serve as a built-in market for the Central Business District.

As deteriorated structures in the area are removed, replacement with higher residential densities should be encouraged.

The success of the high-density development in this area is directly related to the rejuvenation and redevelopment of the Central Business District and the improvement of the general environment of the city.

The commercial activity in District Two is intended for use as retail commercial, service and transitional business. Retail and service businesses of District Two, which does not include the CBD, will continue and be improved mainly in the Namekook area (West of Namekook road) and will be supplemented to the Central Business District.

Transitional-type activities will develop along Namekook road.

During the planning period (through 1985), a new elementary school will probably be needed to accommodate the increased enrollment.

The need for this school will depend on the rate of development in the high-density apartments and the redevelopment of the Central Business District.

Additional parks will be needed by 1985, but due to the highly developed nature of Planning District Two and the surrounding area, the only recommended park is a "vest pocket" park along Washington avenue.

Other community facilities in the area are adequate, with several located in close proximity to the residents of District Two, such as the city hall, Fire Station No. 1, the post office and the police station.

As Dr. Doolittle Says, Talk To the Animals With Gestures

(American Association for the Advancement of Science)

The scientific reason for reacting an ape in a human household with children is to find out just how far the ape can go in absorbing the civilizing influences of the environment, Winthrop Kellogg of Florida State University reports.

Summarizing six major studies in this field, Professor Emeritus Kellogg focuses on:

1. The degree to which an ape is capable of responding like a child.

2. The influence of genetic factors in limiting an ape's development.

Some young chimpanzees were reared with children in family situations where the child's development could be checked against the ape's.

One geneticist showed that the home-raised chimpanzee adapts quickly to the physical features of the home. It does so as well as the human child, and it does so better, particularly those activities involving strength and climbing.

The greatest deficiency shown by the ape is its lack of language ability.

Even amid human surroundings in which a young child prattles and bubbles, the chimpanzee never does. It seems to lack the ability for vocal imitation.

The speech centers in the brain may be deficient in this respect. Or it may be that the speech apparatus of the chimpanzee is simply incapable of producing the complex pattern of human language.

One long-term attempt to teach a chimpanzee to speak human words succeeded only in getting the animal to mouth unvoiced whistles of the words "mama," "papa," "cup" and "up."

It seems clear that the ape, both in the home and in the wild state, relies chiefly on gesture for all of its movements of the body as a means of communication.

It may be possible, then, to train an ape in the home to respond to a gesture system for communication.

Studies of this kind, using the sign language of the deaf, are now under way. Preliminary results indicate that this kind of communication between apes and man is more likely to be successful than other methods.

Our Ambassadors to the Heavens

(Herald-Register, Grinnell, Iowa)

During baseball's heyday (now definitely a part of the past), the names of Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and the like were household words.

When Charles Lindbergh, his plane barely able to lift off the runway because it was so low, crossed the Atlantic by air, he was cheered worldwide.

Whatever the true worth of their accomplishments, these men, along with a very few others, came closer to being national heroes than anyone else in our time.

Newly venerated are Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders.

Now those names are household words.

The three have been likened to Magellan and Columbus. They have been called "historic bold explorers" by the President of the United States.

They have been given what once was considered a certificate "an order of cheers" by a joint session of Congress.

They have been accorded the highest praise by virtually all of the world's press.

Heroism here is a different thing than it is in other nations. Each man in some measure advertises a man as "Hero" on someone's chest is not enough. Official praise does not necessarily excite the imagination of the public, nor does it necessarily result in true admiration.

What is needed is something that will take the public's mind off itself.

—A—No, only that part of your salary that represents interest on the loan will be deductible when you itemize.

The loan reduces my taxes if I itemize my deductions and my wife takes the standard deduction. Can I deduct it?

—A—No. Married couples filing separate returns must handle their deductions the same way. If you itemize deductions, the other must also itemize.

Married couples filing separately must also take the same type of standard deduction. If one takes the 10% standard deduction, both must take it.

—Q—If I file for a refund of taxes withheld on a summer job, will my parents lose their exemption for me? I'm a college student and not married.

—A—No, your parents will not lose you as an exemption. They will long be furnished over half your support. In this situation, the parents' exemption can be claimed on two returns, yours and your parents'.

MORE ABOUT GC Steel

that department had forced Granite City Steel "to operate for almost 3 1/2 months in the second half of 1968 without being able to make its own steel.

Large Fixed Costs
"There were large fixed overhead costs, including depreciation and interest, to be absorbed during that period because three major operating departments—the blast furnace plant, BOF steelmaking plant and blooming mill—were idle until early December. Thus, we incurred a substantial loss for 1968 although shipments and sales were slightly higher than in 1967."

Net sales were $150,067,000 last year compared with $141,749,000 in 1967. Shipments were 983,000 tons in 1968 compared with 983,000 tons of flat rolled steel products shipped in 1967.

Reviewing Granite City Steel's 1968 performance, Veeder said production of the company's new hot strip mill was limited by breakdowns in problems during the first half of 1968 and we were beginning to see reduced steel was very strong. Earnings for the six months amounted to $1,408,000, or 32 cents per share.

BOF Running Smoothly
"The second largest of our furnaces, the basic oxygen furnace steelmaking plant, had operated satisfactorily during the first half of 1968 and we were beginning to see reduced steel was very strong. Earnings for the six months amounted to $1,408,000, or 32 cents per share."

"Unfortunately, a premature failure Aug. 22 in the refractory brick lining of the only blast furnace then operating cut off the supply of molten pig iron for our oxygen steelmaking furnaces and forced us to buy semifinished steel from other companies to continue the operation of our rolling and finishing departments."

"The blast furnace relining was practically completed by Oct. 1 when employees in that department began a strike which lasted 53 days."

Granite City Steel, largest steel company in the two-state metropolitan area, manufactures plate, hot and cold rolled sheet, galvanized sheet and other flat rolled steel products. The company supplies manufacturers and other steel users in the Midwest, south and southwest.

Saturday afternoon while she was in the Venice City Grocery the purse, which was missing, was later found on the parking lot. Her three-year-old son, Douglas, who was sitting in the cart, told authorities the purse was taken by a white man, who looked like a fireman.

A 1968 black and orange two-door auto belonging to Kenneth Gibson, 2817 North street, was stolen off the Johns Manville Co. lot. It was reported Saturday morning to Venice police by a citizen band radio valued at $150 was stolen from the auto of Mrs. Martha Foreshee, 254 Alton avenue, while the car was parked at her home. GSI Sales Increase, Profits Down in '68

General Steel Industries is announcing 1968 sales of $103,125,717 with net income of $2,029,890, or 87 cents per share. This compares with sales of $99,114,566 and earnings of $3,261,254, or $1.41 per share in 1967.

The GSI board declared a dividend of 20 cents per share payable March 31 to shareholders of record March 21.

W. Ashley Gray Jr., GSI president, told shareholders that improved earnings expected in 1968 were realized through the first three quarters of the year, but in the last quarter, strikes costing 11 weeks of production at three key plants eliminated the possibility of reaching anticipated earnings. The corporation had a net loss in the fourth quarter.

Gray announced that continuing unusually high capital expenditures as well as the drain on financial resources resulting from recent labor and manufacturing problems were factors in reducing the dividend 10 cents at the present time.

He said the labor difficulties and most manufacturing problems have now cleared up. "GSI's order backlog of $113 million is exceptionally good and shipment of both railroad freight car products and transit cars is expected to increase in 1969," he said.

Candidate Says Opponent is 'Silent'

Waldo E. "Ernie" Schellenger, candidate for mayor in Granite City's Feb. 11 primary election, said in a statement today that one of his opponents, Third Ward Alderman Clyde Boyd, is conducting a "silent campaign" for mayor and that his "reluctance to come out into the open is a move to confuse the minds of the voting public of Granite City who know very little or nothing about him."

Schellenger's statement said: "A number of years ago a candidate with machine backing could take a trip to Miami during an election and return shortly after the election as a winner. Such is not the case today. Our people want to see their candidates for public office; they want to know that a candidate is qualified for the office that he seeks, and they want and need the assurance that he will actively work to win an election."

Talked to Citizens
"During the past two weeks I have talked to several hundred citizens who have not met Mr. Boyd and know little or nothing about him. I feel that this is a terrible mistake on Mr. Boyd's part, for I have learned from past political experience that it is virtually impossible to stimulate enthusiasm in the voters with a piece of paper that gives the qualifications of a candidate."

"I do not believe that the office of mayor of Granite City can be bought. I do believe that it must be earned. I do not believe that the citizens of Granite City will support a candidate that remains silent while a local machine spreads his campaign material into every nook and cranny of our city."

"I believe that whether a person is a candidate for precinct committeeman or for the presidency, that candidate must be willing to meet with the people. For after all they do have a right to face their candidate when they ask him questions concerning his candidacy."

Radio Station Permit Approved for SIU-SW

The Federal Communications Commission notified Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus last week that it has approved a construction permit for the operation of a non-commercial frequency modulation radio station on the campus.

The construction permit authorizes an educational station on channel 204 (88.7 megahertz). Broadcast range is expected to cover a radius of 70 to 80 miles from the campus.

Plans call for the transmitter to be erected on the southeast corner of the campus. Main studios will be in the Communications Building.

Word of the construction permit approval was received by John R. Rider, director of broadcasting service and chairman of the faculty of mass communications on the Southwestern campus. Rider said he was hopeful that the station can begin broadcasting by June.

Call letters for the station will be assigned later by the FCC.

Optimism Viewed for Future In Counties of S. Illinois

A Southern Illinois University economist at Carbondale sees an increased feeling of optimism about the future of the southern counties of Illinois.

Robert J. Ellis, director of the SIU Bureau of Business Research, said he believed that what stood out most in 1968 was a change of attitude rather than any big shift in actual developments.

"I believe there has been more optimism than heretofore, which is based on things yet to happen," said Ellis in reviewing the economic picture of the lower counties during the past year.

He pointed to such big projects as the Rend Lake and Kaskaskia River developments, the Saline River project, and the interstate road system in Egypt, which already are under way and are expected to have an impact on the area.

His other bases of optimism are proposals like the Big Muddy Basin plan, the scenic road from the Ohio to the Mississippi

Rivers, Kinkaid Lake near Murphysboro, the much-talked-about conversion of coal to oil, which many feel would revive mining in the area, and contemplated further development in the Shawnee National Forest.

Impacts probably are a few years away on most projects, Ellis said.

Officials say the proposed $83 million Big Muddy Basin development, which would feature a recreation corridor along 178 miles of the Big Muddy and Little Muddy Rivers and Beaucoup Creek, lake construction and strip mining rehabilitation, could be a real bonanza for Southern Illinois. Cong. Kenneth J. Gray of the 21st Illinois District has predicted it ultimately could mean $1 billion a year in tourist trade. Public hearings by army engineers already have been held on the proposal.

Expected to have great impact are Rend Lake in Jefferson and Franklin counties and dy Basin plan, the scenic road from the Ohio to the Mississippi the Mississippi to the Shelbyville area.

Already begun is construction of the Kaskaskia Navigation project, which will provide a 50-mile barge canal nine feet in depth from the mouth north of Chester to Fayetteville in St. Clair county. Farther upstream in Fayette and Clinton counties is the new Carlyle Lake and a lake near Shelbyville, under construction, will provide impounding bodies for flood control, water for navigation purposes downstream when the Mississippi and Kaskaskia are low, and recreation and conservation possibilities.

Preliminary work has started on the Saline River project in the Saline-Gallatin counties area, where parts of the river and its tributaries will be deepened and widened as a flood control and drainage project. Conservancy district officials are optimistic about canalization possibilities.

Ellis predicts a long-run impact on the area resulting from development of the Illinois junior college system, which is making or will make college communities out of eight or ten towns in southern Illinois.

The industrial picture has not changed much during the year. A major announcement was that a boat factory, which eventually will employ several hundred persons, will locate at West Frankfort.

Regarding the forest potential in industry, Ellis said a feasibility study and proposal from a private group that seeks to establish a wood-working company in southern Illinois has gone to the Duluth field office of the Economic Development Administration for evaluation.

He said there has been commercial expansion the past year

Bus-Auto Accident

An auto and a Bi-State Transit bus were involved in an accident about 1:20 p.m. Saturday at Primrose and Prairie avenues, where the bus, driven by Billie Mundy of Alton, was going north on Primrose, and the auto, driven by John Hillick, 1628 Primrose, was traveling west. No injuries were reported. There were four passengers on the bus.

In some areas of Southern Illinois, which indicates more money is being spent. He also sees a long-range impact from increased activity by HUD (Housing and Urban Development) in the Carbondale, West Frankfort, and other areas.
